

Dr. DiDomenico, is an Associate Professor in the University of Illinois Chicago (UIC) College of Pharmacy, Department of Pharmacy Practice, where he also serves as Assistant Head for Faculty Affairs and Strategic Initiatives. Dr. DiDomenico is also an Affiliate member of the Center for Pharmacoepidemiology and Pharmacoeconomic Research and Cardiovascular Clinical Pharmacist at the University of Illinois Hospital with a practice site in inpatient cardiology.

As a clinician-scientist, Dr. DiDomenico has authored more than 100 peer-reviewed articles, book chapters, and abstracts on topics related to cardiovascular pharmacotherapy and has gained national recognition as a key opinion leader in the areas of heart failure, anticoagulation, and coronary artery disease. He is actively engaged in several professional organizations, achieving fellowship status in the American College of Clinical Pharmacy (FCCP), Heart Failure Society of America (HFSA), and the American College of Cardiology (ACC).